Hi!
I really don't know what I would have done without you in the past. I sure am going to miss you next year. After I get back from Mexico we will have to get together
stay just as you are and

Where the Mountie

A stranger comes a-walking by

He looks for Mountaineers

He comes upon a boy and girl

These are the words he hears:

"We pushed across the mountains to this

green and fertile land

We're pioneers. We've blazed a path.

We Mounties take our stand."

He trails them to a building near.

They enter it with pride.

For it's the school they know and love—

Their school, Shades Valley High.

As they traverse the empty halls

And pass their silent way

The school, built fifteen years ago,

Holds shades which seem to say.

"We pushed across the Mountains to this

green and fertile land.

We're pioneers. We've blazed a path. We Mounties take our stand.

"In fifteen years we've built a school.

While doing so we've learned.

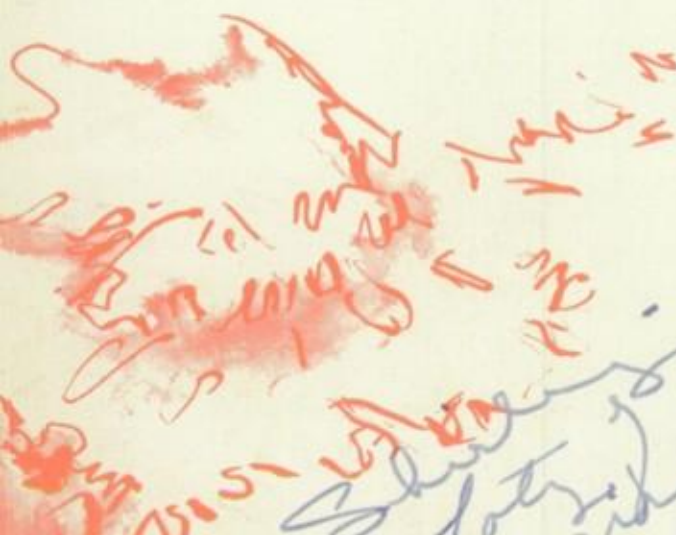

We've left our mark for future years

And our rewards we've earned.

Shirley, it doesn't seem like yee, it doesn't seem like our years at Valley are over.
We've had some wonderful times & shared a lot of laughs together. I want you to know how much I appreciate your friendship. You are a great girl & happiness & success will follow people like you. A.E.T.
Let's keep in touch. OK!

 darling spirit the hard pull deserves a long OVER
 but IT'S NEARLY next year.
 Come see me
 Love ya,
 Donna

Dear Shirley,
 A great deal of luck
 & a great deal of fun always

"Our rewards are large and small
 Like our life's work and fun.
 And in these years we recognize
 What, for us, school has done."

"And now we're in our fifteenth year.
 And Mountie Life goes on.
 But Mountie Spirit's present here
 Whose song will linger on."

The two now seem to disappear
 As ghosts of by-gone years.
 Wait! There they are, beneath that tree
 The stranger listens — hears:

"We pushed across the mountains to this green and fertile land.
 We're pioneers. We've blazed a path.
 We Mounties take our stand."

Dear Shirley,
 you are one of the most "fun"

Miss Volena Whaley has been one of the builders of the Shades Valley tradition. Beginning her Mountie career with the opening of school in 1949, Miss Whaley has taught mathematics to many past classes and now heads the Mathematics Department. Graduates of her classes have been a triumph for the school.

Before coming to Valley, Miss Whaley taught in Tarrant at Jefferson County High School. She has also taught at the University of Alabama and at the University Center in Birmingham.

Outside classes, Miss Whaley has graciously worked with the seniors on the Cap and Gown Committee and has always been willing to attend school events as an active supporter.

For her many contributions to Shades Valley in the past fifteen years, the Tower staff dedicates the 1964 annual to Miss Volena Whaley.

Administration . . . Guiding Mounties Toward the Future

Dear Shirley,

Well, old gal, luck has been a ball this year, hasn't it. We've really raised it in there. Your Senior year is about to end and mine to begin so I hope my next year is as good as yours was this year and that your next year is even better.

Love + luck to a great gal,

Bobby Merrill

Shades Valley has been led to its current scholastic position by its administration. Without able leadership, many of the honors and citations received by the school would have gone to others. Always looking to the future, the people who guide the Mounties in their everyday studies have for fifteen years kept up with the latest educational processes. It is the labor of these executives which has made for Shades Valley the reputation it enjoys as one of the most modern and efficient high schools in the area. The role of our office is not easy, but it is a very vital one for the constant progress of the school.

For the official mourning period following the death of our President, the flag was flown at half mast.

FRANK A. PEAKE, Principal
Olivet College, A.B.; Howard College, M.A., LL.D.

Through the past fifteen years, the everincreasing heights attained by Shades Valley attest to the administrative abilities of the people who have chartered its course. Heading this able staff is Dr. Frank Peake, who has held the position of principal since the school began in 1949. The year 1963 has brought some changes, however. Hugh Stegall, in his first year at Shades Valley, holds the position of vice-principal. New to the school is the position of business manager, which has been capably filled by Henry Alexander, formerly head of the Industrial Arts Department. Backed by an efficient staff of office personnel, the administration, in a short span of years, has placed Shades Valley in a prominent position, both locally and on a state-wide level.

Throughout the fifteen years of Valley's existence Mrs. Hightower and Mr. Chamblee have endeavored to provide each individual student with the attention he needs.

Due to the tremendous pressure from colleges for an increasingly higher quality of education and due to the expanding number of students in our school, the pressure of the counseling office have increased greatly.

To provide the students with continued high quality guidance, another counselor and an assistant to the counselors have been added to the staff.

Our Guidance Department was a pioneer in the state and was helpful in the organization of the State Guidance Association.

As an unusual extension of high school library, the Shades Valley audio-visual department offers a variety of film strips, an exceptionally large collection of maps, and many records. The films, ranging in subject matter from Macbeth to South Africa, are supplemented by films available through the library of the Jefferson County school system. To make use of these audio-visual aids, the school has acquired a valuable collection of projectors, record players, speakers, and other equipment.

The cafeteria is always improving the school lunches, each year being better than the last. Although serving school lunches is the cafeteria's main function, serving dinners at school activities is also a major job. The cafeteria was responsible for the excellent dinners at the athletic suppers, the football banquet, and other banquets this spring.

Even though he is new, Mr. Moreno has already made himself indispensable to Shades Valley. Unknown to many students he works long hours when school is out helping groups who need to use the building.

Mrs. Vines calls an ill student's home.

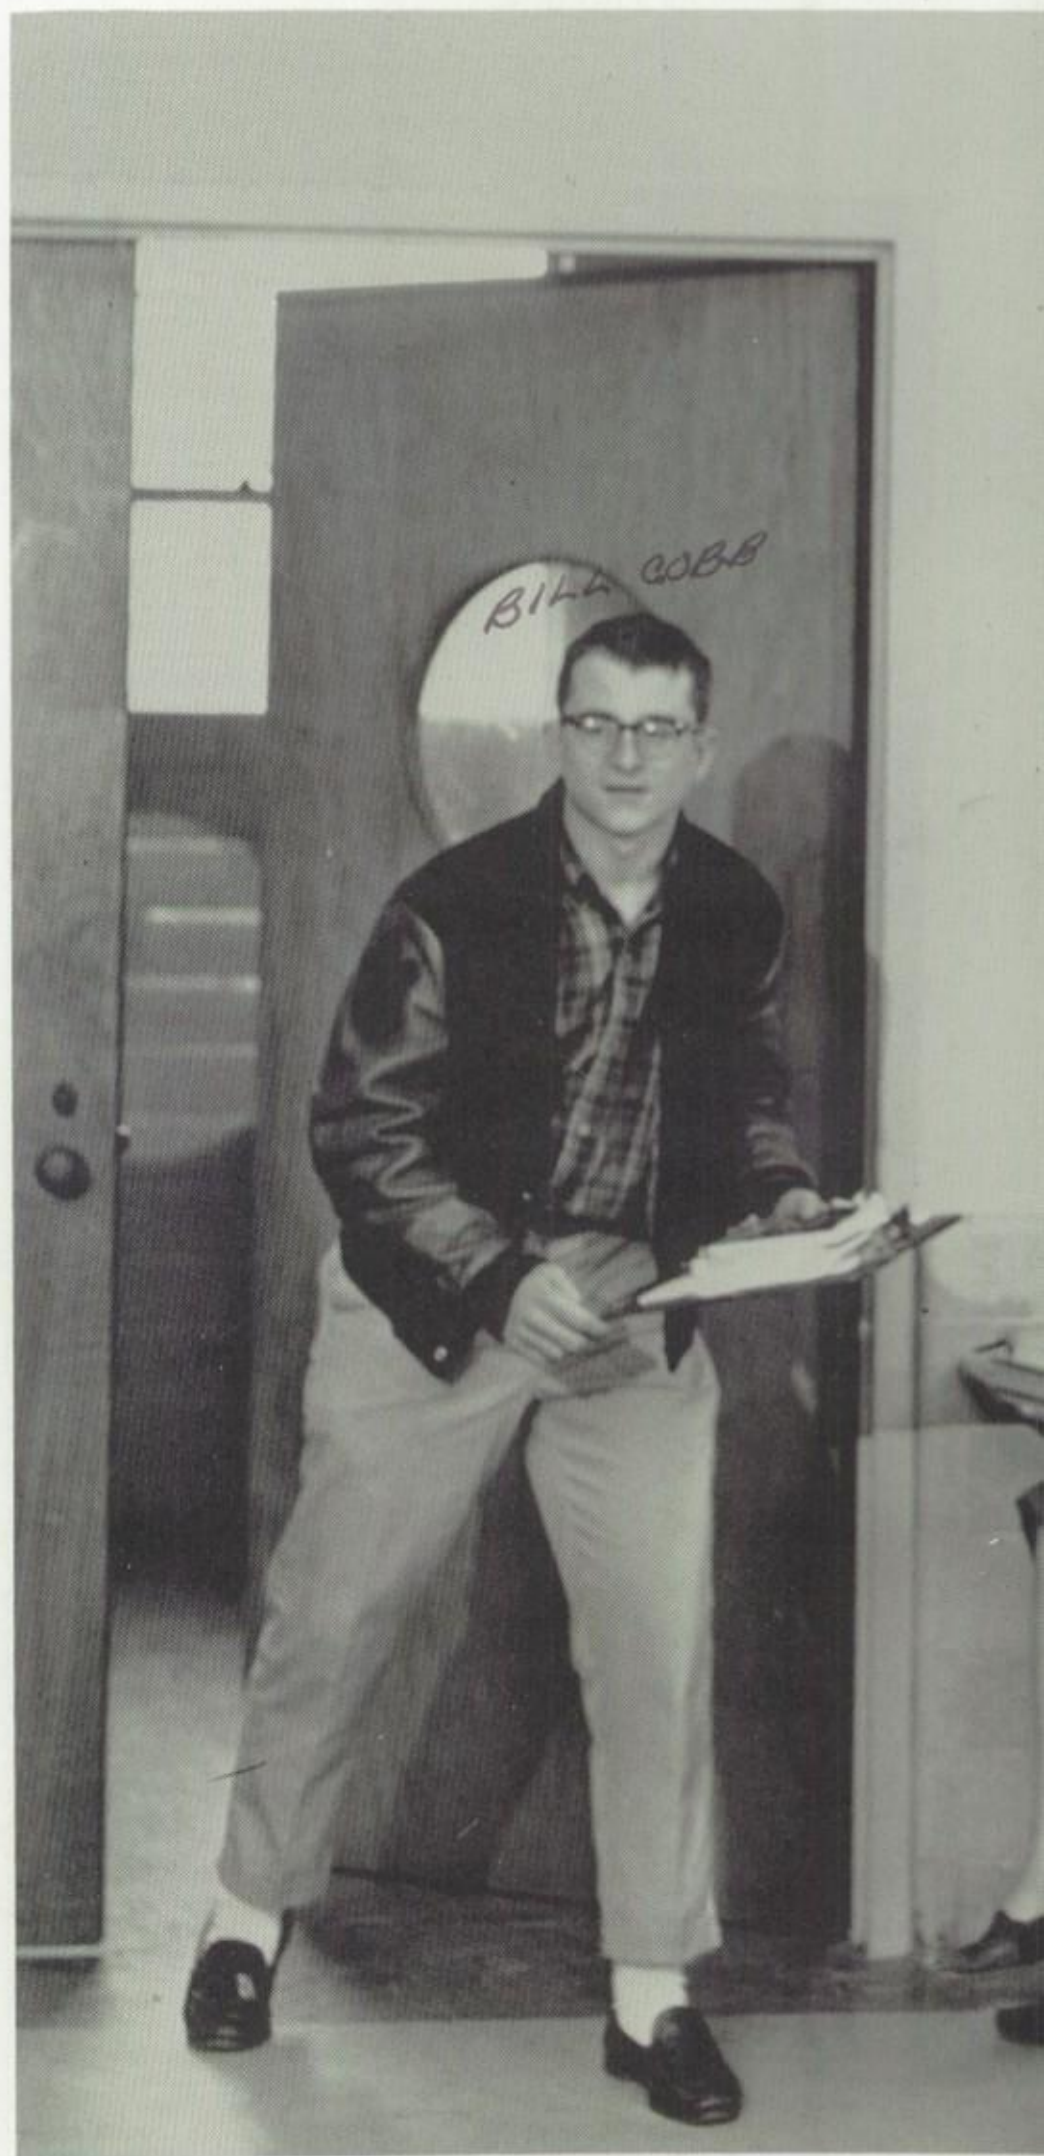

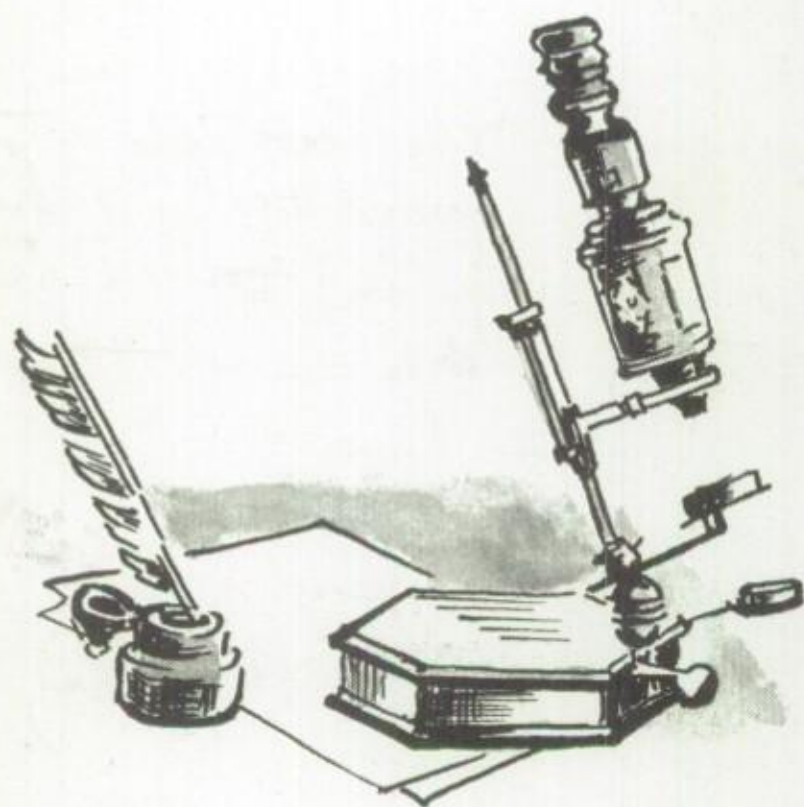

The school is grateful for Mrs. Pugh's attention to records.

Preparation for the future is the most important aspect of Mountie Life. This challenge is divided among the ten departments of study at Shades Valley, including English, foreign languages, math, science, home economics, fine arts, commerce, social studies, industrial arts, and physical education. Each department gives the student the kind of well-rounded education that Shades Valley has sought for fifteen years.

In the cool, dark, recesses of the southern Appalachian Mountains remain the last traces of the English language in its purest form—that in which it was first brought to the North American continent by the Scotch Irish ancestors of the mountaineers. It is only fitting that the present day Mounties in the shadows of these same hills should cling to and add to this traditional study. The English department at Shades Valley has for fifteen years carried on this important part of the curriculum, examining the past, as well as looking to the future in the world of literature and grammar.

English Department Produces Original Drama

The English Department at Shades Valley uses many interesting and varied means of handling its subject matter. Among these new twists employed by teachers is the use of dramatic productions to teach literature, a method valuable to the students and also entertaining.

Sharon Silverfield, Lucy Hargrove, Shirley Brittain, Susan Vanlandingham, Claudia Cooper, Jane Shivers, Marian McDonald, Lee Whitmire.

This year both the junior and the senior honors classes have sponsored the use of drama with their studies. The junior presentation was a musical comedy entitled Oklahamlet, which combined the stories of Hamlet and Oklahoma. The play was later presented for the Jefferson County English teachers.

The senior honors English classes put on skits covering the first semester studies in literature. These included intriguing combinations of Dante's Inferno and Milton's Paradise Lost.

Classics Revisited

English classes at Shades Valley vary from the ordinary course of study to creative subjects and projects. Sophomores begin their high school work with study of such classics as Sophomore English discussion group—A Tale of Two Cities.

Melissa Houseal, Dawn Holt, Robert Levin, Bruce Boucher, Jack Adams.

Seniors viewed slides of England taken by Miss Borders, a retired teacher who frequently visits the school.

Junior English classes consist largely of informal discussions of the subjects being studied.

Perhaps more than ever, in this day of the international society each person is intimately involved in the scope of social studies. The tragic death of President Kennedy drove this point home clearly, making the individual feel a new sense of closeness to history. We at Shades Valley are fortunate in having an up-to-date social studies department that realizes this new interest and concern and strives to concentrate on the principal of government, civics, history, and economics as they affect the individual, the citizen of the world tomorrow.

Shades Valley Student Wins Essay Contests

The students at Shades Valley excel in the field of Social Studies just as they do in other fields. In the classroom they study man's past and prepare for his future. Outside class they continue to explore areas that interest them and are often rewarded for their efforts.

History Club - Unrolling the Scroll of Prophecy

By participating in school activities, having socials, and sponsoring projects, the History Club this year has succeeded in achieving its goals. These goals were to promote the club in school spirit.

The club sponsored five hundred petitions in the WSGN School Spirit Contest, in which Shades Valley placed second. Also, the History Club had a float, "Napoleon," in the Mountie Day Parade.

The club was promoted through dinner meetings held every two weeks. These were profitable and entertaining.

The club's main project this year was visiting the Mercy Home. All who went enjoyed it, as did the children in the home. Other projects were the contributions to the school's Audio Visual Supplies and a history book to the library. Sponsor: Mr. Parker.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Home Economics is a practical course as well as an interesting one. Making your own clothes, knitting sweaters, decorating cakes or making that calorie-filled pie can be more fun than work.

First year sewing courses include the fundamentals in skirt and dress making. First year cooking girls learn the art of cooking delicious cookies, pies and candy as well as table etiquette.

The advanced sewing class works with tailoring and lining suits and dresses while those second year cooking girls are preparing luncheons and decorating cakes.

Future Homemakers have a well-rounded course at Shades Valley.

Physical Education

The athletic department at Shades Valley is a necessary as well as a popular part of the school program. From the lowly sophomore doing push-ups to the Mountie lineman running windsprints, athletics are a part of every student's life. This interest in physical fitness is one of the major characteristics of the Mountaineer symbol that the school has adopted in its fifteen year history. Each person feels a deep interest in intramural and interscholastic sports as a part of the Mountie Spirit.

The Fine Arts Department is one of the largest and most varied sections of our school. According to Mountie customs its members have participated in art, choral debate, and dramatic competitions. Needless to say, they have brought honors to our school at all times. Expressing inner feelings through acting is one of the favorite activities of Mounties. During "The Diary of Anne Frank" and the '64 Showcase, many students have shown outstanding abilities, whether they were acting, singing, or working on the crew. Time and again the Mountie Debate team has contributed largely to school life through competitions and Forensic Club activities. We especially remember our school Band, Art, and Choral Dept. These members have entertained not only Mounties but also other Birmingham citizens by concerts, exhibits and contests. They are appreciated greatly at football games, special assemblies and Mountie Day.

One hundred hours of work in the theater are required for membership in the Troups. This year Thespians earned hours working on several productions: The Diary of Anne Frank, the Fine Arts program at Christmas, and the 1964 Showcase, Carnival.

In February, Shades Valley Thespians took part in the state convention at Birmingham Southern. In connection with the Shakespearean quadricentennial, the theme of the program was a quotation from AS YOU LIKE IT . . . "All the world's a stage." Sponsor: Mrs. Walker.

This year has been a busy one for the Art Department. Jobs have ranged from exhibits to scenery with many jobs in between. Two formal exhibits have been sponsored by the art club, one for the Diary of Anne Frank and one for the Fine Arts Department Christmas Program. The Art Classes have also entered two other major exhibits, the State Fair exhibit and the Scholastic Art exhibit.

The scenery for both The Diary of Anne Frank and for Carnival was done by this department. In addition, the Art Department has done many small jobs for the school such as posters, decorations for dances, the Senior Bulletin Board, and programs and cards designs.

The Art Department is proud to serve Shades Valley and tries to do so in every way possible.

Members of the Art Club serve as clerical hostesses at the Birmingham Museum of Art. The club won the Mountie Day Parade Contest and was voted the "Club of the Month" several times. However, the Art Club still found the time for plenty of work inside the School such as making posters for the PTA, Thespian sets, doing work on the Showcase set, as well as work for various groups.

Music is proclaimed as an art at Shades Valley by singing.

The Concert Choir is not only a class in advanced music, but also a public relations asset for Shades Valley. It has performed at Alabama College, for various churches, and at a city-wide music festival in the Municipal Auditorium.

The World of the Stage . . .

David Hewson, Barbara Moore,
Mr. Schlegel and Rosalie

Almost anywhere students are found wrapped up in the world of the theater. This is especially true at Shades Valley, beginning with The Diary of Anne Frank in the fall and concluding the year with the 1964 Showcase.

During this time tryouts are held, casts are chosen, crews are organized, and the work is begun. In the first Thespian production many students who seemed very professional in ability for amateurs made the play Anne Frank one of the most profitable activities of the school.

In December the students gave a Fine Arts Christmas program in afternoon and night performances under the direction of Miss Emily Evans.

Early in January rehearsals began for the Showcase. Carnival, a lively musical, had been chosen for the production.

Looking Behind the Scenes

Paint brushes, old clothes, hammers and saws, and dancing shoes were found again. Participants in the Showcase could be found working every afternoon after school and on Saturdays, too. The last week before the show was crammed with hastily learned lines, last minute costume changes, and frantic scenery crew work sessions. Then, at last, the curtain rose and Carnival began.

These three productions have helped carry on the tradition of high school theater. They offered the students an opportunity to experience a new freedom—a freedom of expressing themselves by working in the world of the stage.

Language Students Take Part in Extracurricular Activities

In this age of the small world the field of International relations is vastly important. A major part of this field is understanding the other fellow, a job requiring the familiarity with his native tongue, customs and activities. At Shades Valley students are prepared for the future by the language department.

Our language department includes instruction in French, Spanish, German, and the classical language Latin. Students carry the studies beyond the classroom in the French NHS and the Spanish NHS in the trips the members take to other countries.

Shades Valley is also fortunate in having a language lab, a tape recorder-equipped class for the study of foreign languages. This lab is staffed by an efficient group of lab assistants chosen for their experience with electronics equipment. They clean and repair the machines and care for the language tapes.

All in all, Shades Valley's language department can be quite an experience for one interested in the study of foreign languages, for the instruction and facilities are among the very best in the state.

The Shades Valley High School Industrial Arts Department is divided into the drafting and printing classes. The drafting division is composed of both beginning and advanced drawing classes. The department has the most modern equipment and facilities and is even able to do its own blue-printing. There is also an architectural drawing class.

The printing division also has the most modern equipment and the necessary material to give well rounded instruction in the graphic arts field. This department is a big asset to the school, doing many printing jobs for various groups.

Main Events . . . That Was the Year That Was

The school year at Shades Valley is a series of memorable occasions that may be referred to as main events. These activities of Mountie life range from the latest fads to traditions shaped by fifteen years of school history. Whatever the nature of the activity, Shades Valley students enter into the project with the true spirit of competition and leadership of the Mountaineer. Mountie Day, Twirp Week or petition contest, the Mounties make whatever they do main events.

Shades Valley students pause at the familiar old mill in the Valley renovated by William B. O'Neal.

Treasures for the Future From Shades Valley, 1963-1964

Shades Valley is more than a high school; it is a living record of fifteen years of the progress and experience of the thousands of its students. In the school-sponsored activities each student leaves a part of himself as he takes the lesson that Shades Valley has to offer. Each year as this collection grows, Shades Valley grows in depth, and of such increase is progress made.

There are certain of these activities that are the highlights of the school year and, in actuality, of a lifetime. Some regard the larger events as such; some regard the everyday events as highlights. However, whether the highlights are the homecoming game and the Twirp Dance or only the weekly assemblies in the auditorium, the real main events of the year to each student are the projects he participated in personally.

Pep Rally.

Bill Hayes behind the hamburger?

This participation can be in the most major or the most minor aspect. They also serve who work behind the scenes. All who work on productions such as Showcase and Anne Frank as either stars or stagehands feel the thrill of the theater. The cheerleaders and the students in the stands feel the same surge of school spirit at the pep rallies. On projects of all sorts the result is the reward of all.

These rewards are plentiful during the years at Shades Valley, for Shades Valley holds something for each student. Even the everyday activities of the students hold rewards in the form of lasting memories. A big smile for the school photographer, a day with classmates at the fair, or a last bite of lunch before the sound of the bell—all these are part of a foundation for the future for the students of Shades Valley.

The Spirit of '63

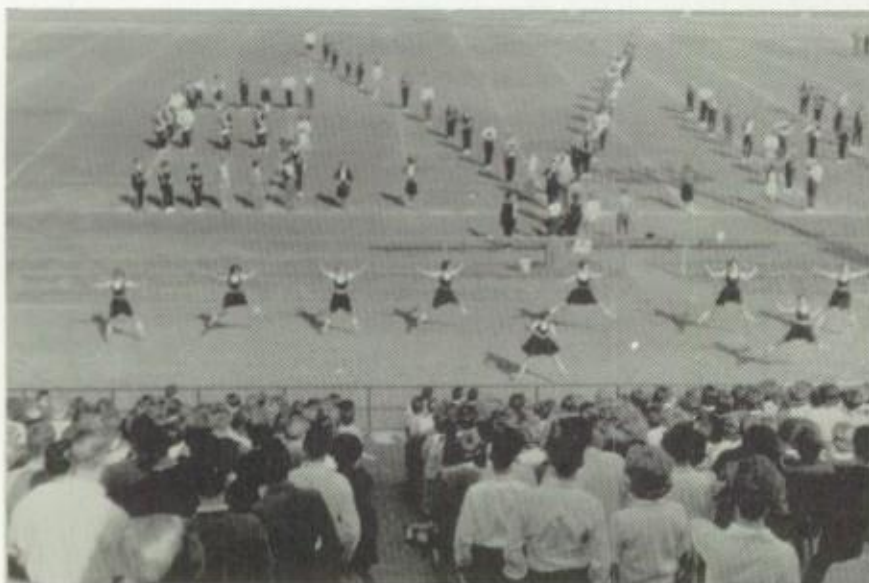

Our band warms up before a pep rally.

Julia Hawkins wears her sentiments well.

Lynn Spotswood parades prior to the big parade.

Spirit runs high before the game with Ensley.

It was really school again as we at Shades Valley knew only too well. Welcoming Mr. Stegall, our new Vice Principal, Mr. Moreno, Keeper of the keys, and Gabriella Ferrua, our charming Italian foreign exchange student, was a pleasure for us all. Commonly accepted customs during the first few weeks of the new school season did not go unobserved here, with everyone having his own complaints about school, tests, teachers, and homework. However, we soon got down to the serious business of electing class officers, student council representatives and doing the dozen and one other school duties bestowed upon us by the faculty. Despite our claims to the contrary, most of us were happy to get back to work again.

Somehow our time had gone, and it was the middle of October—Mountie Day. For almost a week numerous club members had frantically taped, pasted, and wired together their floats in preparation for the Mountie Day Parade. Shades Valley's spirit on this day was typified by the Chemistry Club's dauntlessness in rebuilding its float, ruined during the night by a heavy dew. They finally took second place in the contest. In first place was the Art Club float, with the Thespians float taking third.

"How do they get a chicken in there" wonders Carl "Pappy" Anderson.

Surges Onward

The Mounties' love of nature can never be questioned, for in the halls of Valley one could see many of our furry and feathered friends enjoying the excitement. No one was as surprised as Mrs. Arnold when Carl Anderson became the proud (?) owner of a strapping 6.3 ounce Grade "A" large egg.

Mr. and Miss Mountie were elected and Gaby was made an honorary cheerleader while all of us were delighted by the costumes of Mrs. Putman and Mister Bradley.

We were temporarily saddened at the loss of our Homecoming Game, but Carleton and her court were no less beautiful for it. We really had the school spirit as was shown by the excited crowds in the halls at Valley on Homecoming Day. By the way, congratulations to the band on a well lit Eiffel Tower.

Memories We Cherish

The lives of us who worked and played,
Throughout the crowded halls,
All have been changed as thoughts we weighed,
Regarding lifetime's call.

The days we spent in mad research,
Preparing for a test.
Determined not to flunk, or worse,
Were by far the best.

A rush of feet in early morn,
The ringing of a bell,
Are sounds we cherish without scorn,
Our history they tell.

Each of us who studies here,
We number quite a few,
The praise of Valley proudly bear,
And keep it in our view.

The climax of Mountie Day came with the Mountie Day Parade. Clubs entering floats had worked for several weeks before the big day arrived. As the parade passed the stand, the judges chose the three best floats. Emerging as the winners were first place, Art Club, shown at the left; second place, Chemistry Club; and third place, Thespians.

Chosen for the best Mountie costumes, Mary Weed and Charles Woodall were named Mr. and Miss Mountie.

The Homecoming Court, consisting of class beauties, was headed by Carleton Lackey, Homecoming Queen. Accompanying her were Donna Davenport, Senior Attendant; Louise Moody, Junior Attendant, and Stewart Sevier, Sophomore Attendant.

On Nov. 4, representatives from 37 colleges across the United States arrived at Valley to take part in the annual College Day. Held to inform students about national colleges, all juniors, seniors, and sophomores who made the Honor Roll are invited. Since from 85% to 92% of the Valley graduates do go on to college, this day is a big event of the year.

Spring Sparks

Truly, the age of chivalry is not dead. For one week early in the spring, the girls at Shades Valley become real gentlemen. They carry the boys' books, open doors, keep quiet unless spoken to by a boy, and foot the bills for any social engagements. However, this Twirp Week (The Woman Is Required To Pay) is not all drudgery for the girls. They are permitted to play football in the Powder Puff game and are given the chance to buy a slave to carry on their duties for them. In addition to all this, they are allowed to buy twirp licences which give them extravagant privileges. However, stern regulations go along with these rights and just punishments are meted out to outlaws arrested by Twirp cops at the Twirp Court on Friday. The week is climaxed by the Twirp dance, to which the girls ask the boys and at which King Twirp and the King and Queen of Hearts are crowned. At the end of the dance, the spell is broken and the erstwhile gentlemen become mere girls again.

Plenty of bruises.

Sports have been an integral part of Mountie life since the school was founded fifteen years ago. Shades Valley fields teams in all the major sports, such as football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, golf, and wrestling. Throughout the years, the Mounties have amassed a tremendous amount of sports honors, as four well-filled trophy cases testify. However, beyond the gleaming plaques and silver cups, Shades Valley has set for itself the tradition of wholesome competition and sportsmanship in the field of athletics. This year has been one of the great seasons for the Mounties.

Mountie Gridders Win Another Championship

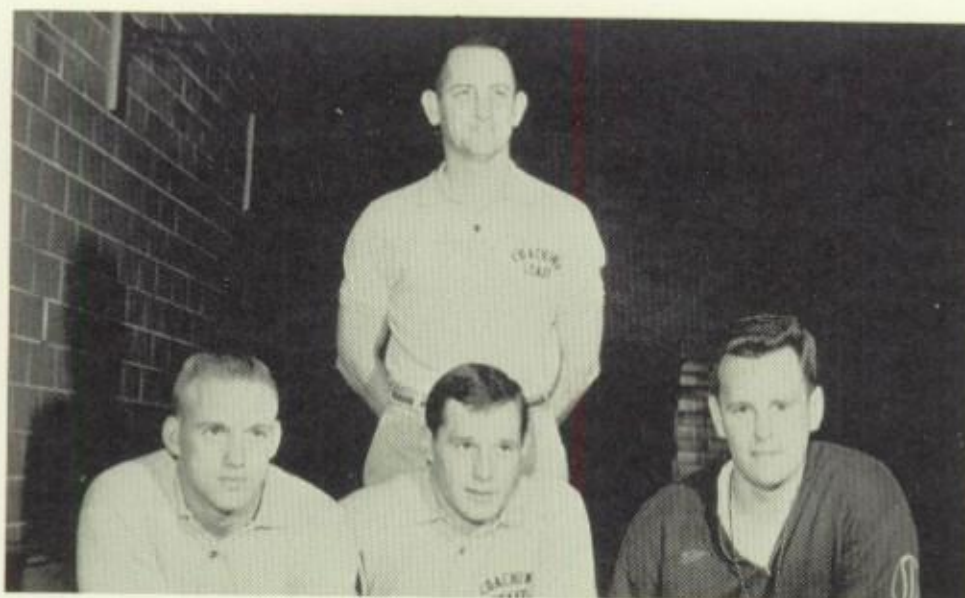

The 1963 Mountie Football Season found former assistant coach Bill Legg assuming the head coaching duties. Shades Valley was picked to finish third in the county league, but the Mounties' ambitions were higher. At the close of the season Shades Valley had won its second consecutive county championship. Coach Legg, the assistant coaches Bobby Jackson, Jim Sims, and Jim Tolson, and the Mounties completed the season with a record of 6-3-1. The highlight of the season was a 6-0 win over Hueytown, the pre-season pick for championship honors. It was a great beginning year for Coach Legg and his new staff. The student body made it a greater year with fine spirit and support the season through.

BENSON KICKS MOUNTIES PAST FAIRFIELD

The Mounties ran into a fired-up team of Fairfield Tigers in their second game. Fairfield, looking for a big upset, completely bottled-up the Mounties' offensive attack for most of the game. It took a great Valley effort on defense to keep the Tigers from scoring on several occasions in the first half. The second half was a kicking game and Joe Benson converted a field goal with only three minutes remaining, giving the Mounties a 3-0 victory.

MOUNTIES CLEAR HEWITT 14-0

Valley ran its record to 3-0 by grinding out a 14-0 win over Hewitt-Trussville. The Mounties found the wet field and Hewitt's single wing offense to be troublesome, and several drives were halted. Hewitt never threatened seriously in the muddy game, which again saw the Mountie defense stand out.

INJURY PLAGUED MOUNTIES FALL TO LEE

DENTAL CLINIC GAME ENDS DEADLOCKED

The Mounties ended the season with a 13-13 tie with Tarrant in the annual Dental Clinic game. After Tarrant had run the kickoff back for a touchdown, the Mounties settled down to a good, hard-nosed football game. After a Shades Valley drive had been stopped at the Tarrant 30, Tarrant drove in for another score, and a 13-0 lead. But after this, they never even made another first down. The Mounties scored just before the half, as end Gene Holloway caught the first two touchdown passes, this one covering 17 yards. The Mounties tied the game in the fourth quarter on a sustained drive. The key to the success was a three yard Benson run on a fourth-and-two situation at the Tarrant 11. Holloway took a seven-yard pass from quarterback Jim Campbell for the score. Benson's extra point kick tied the game. The Mounties narrowly missed winning the game with a series of last-minute passes.

FOOTBALL BANQUET CAPS ANOTHER GREAT YEAR

MOUNTIE CAGERS REBUILD WITH NEW COACH

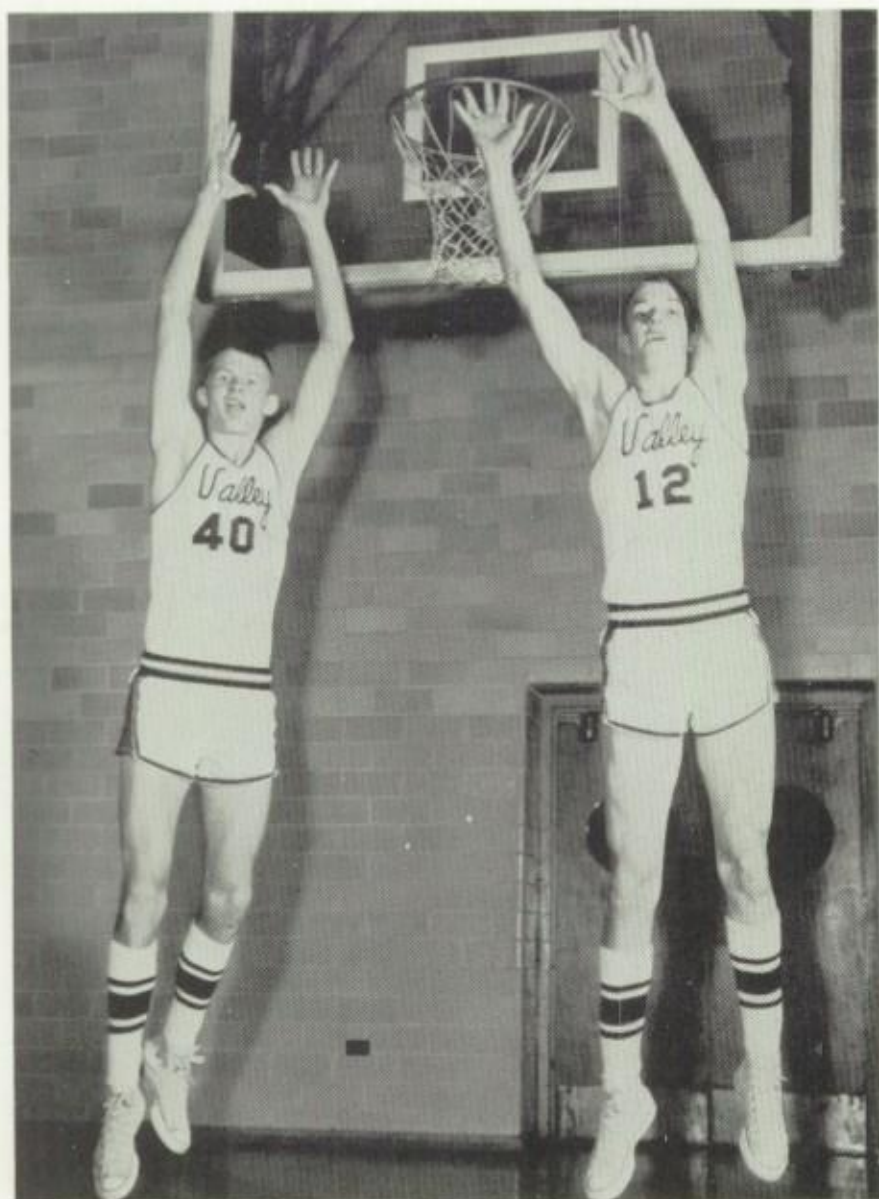

The 1963-64 basketball season found Valley with two new coaches, Jim Tolson and Bobby Jackson. No starters returned from last year's great team. Valley was determined to have another good season although they lacked height. Their schedule was as challenging as any in the state and they played their best in every game. Such players as Don Lundy and Kirby Sevier paced the Valley attack. Both ran a close race for scoring honors. Fine support by the student body added to their success.

Top rebounder of the year was Buddy Yancey. Best defensive players were Don Lundy and Jimmy Campbell. Captain was Dickie Brown.

Wrestlers Have Fine First Year

This was the first year of wrestling on an inter-scholastic basis for Shades Valley. Our team was composed mainly of Sophomores and Juniors. They held their own, however, against more experienced opponents like Banks, Berry, Fairfield, McAdory, and Tarrant.

TRACK SPRINTS INTO ITS SPRING SEASON

Our track team, after finishing second in the state last year, anxiously approached its spring season. They were under leadership of the new track coach, Bobby Jackson, and assistant Jim Sims. The team proved in the John Carroll Invitational and the Coliseum Relay Meets that they would boast a fine season. Returning letterman Larry Duncan, one of the best shot-putters in the South, would lead our team in the victory column. Other returning lettermen include: Bob Barrett, Bobby Douglas, Joe Ellis, Martin Haskell, Mark Krebs, Bill McCandliss, Jimmy Redd, Don Rossman. These, along with a host of others should give the Mountie track team a successful season.

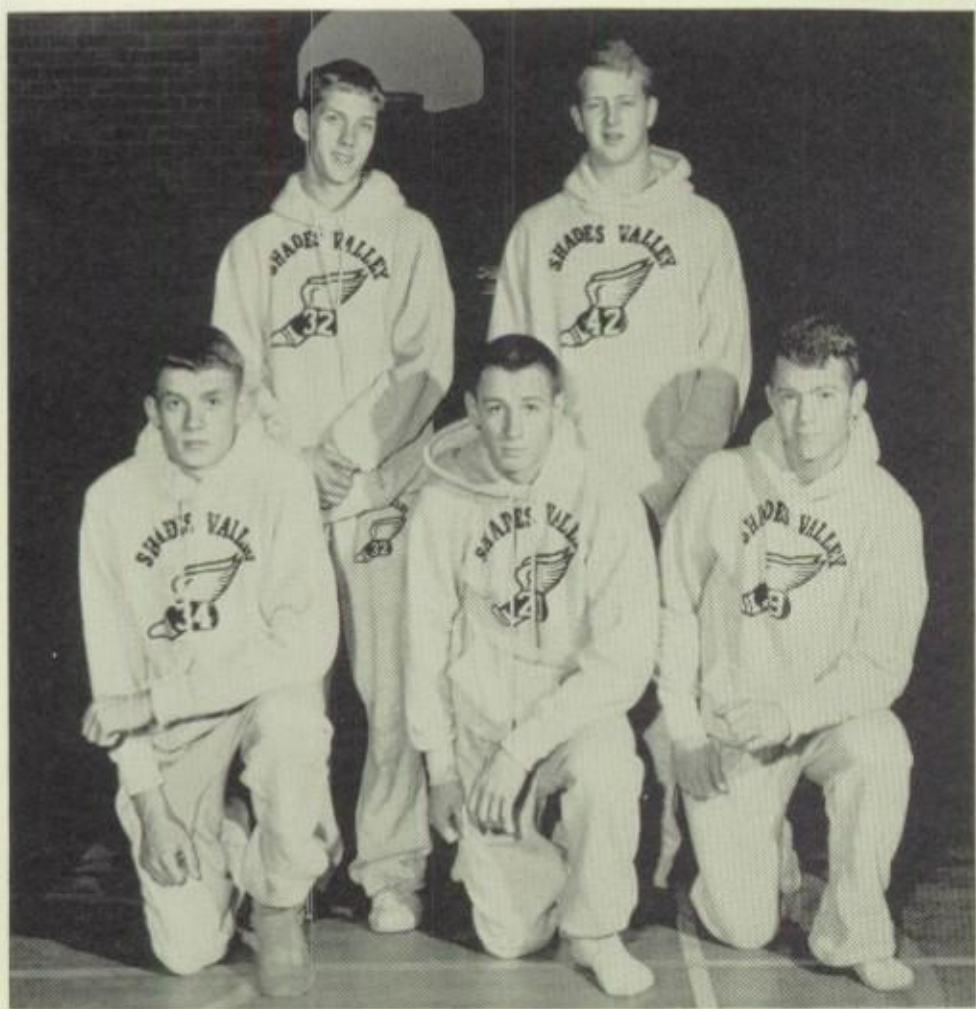

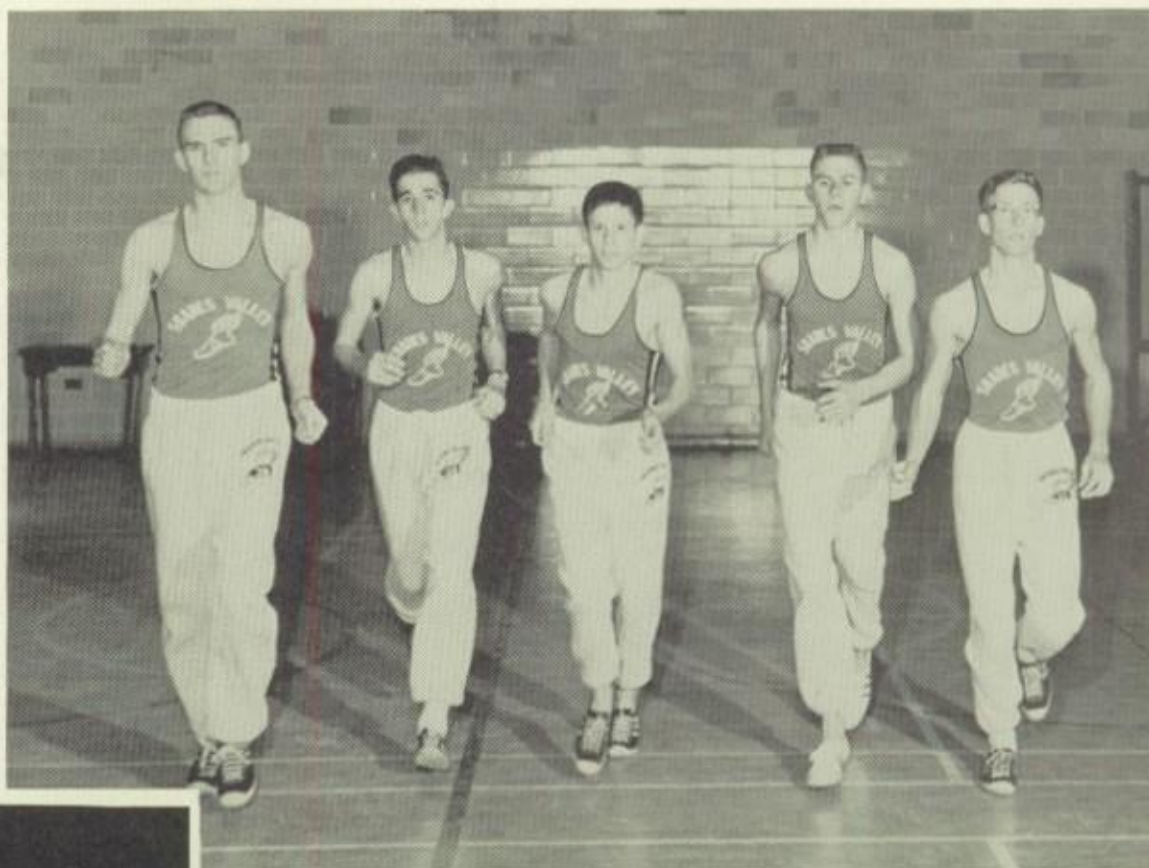

SHOT PUT: Larry Duncan and David Griffin. Duncan has unofficially broken the state shot put record and holds the John Carroll and Montgomery Coliseum Meet records.

The school activities of Shades Valley include a varied program of club and honor organizations. These groups are a major part of the total program of education sponsored by the school. The clubs permit an opportunity for the students to participate in groups that promote interest in particular fields beyond the classrooms. The honor organizations provide a chance for recognition for those deserving students who excel in various fields.

The clubs helped to boost school spirit by encouraging students to take part in a petition contest sponsored by a local radio station.

Acting of the Students, by the Students, and for the Students

The Student government of Shades Valley is composed of a representative group of elected students known as the student council. This group is responsible for the school activities of the student body. They are constantly striving for improvements around the school. This year they sent representatives to the Southeastern Conference of Student Councils in Monroe, Louisiana. The council also sponsored Shades Valley's efforts in the high school spirit contest. We came in a close second and received a trophy for our efforts. They also helped the PTA in a membership drive and joined the other schools in the county to compose a letter to the public concerning the tragic death of President Kennedy. The student council was very active this year. Sponsor: Miss Harden.

Give and Take - Mostly Cooperate

The purpose of the Interclub Council is to coordinate the total activities of the clubs at Shades Valley. Meeting on the third Friday of every month, they review the activities of the clubs and award the "Club of the Month" award to the clubs that have been the best in the service club, honor club, and the special interest club categories. Through this and other activities, the Interclub Council helps to forge the clubs of Shades Valley into a more effective instrument to further the heights of achievement of the school.

"Follow me" is a phrase characteristic of the Usherettes, the official hostesses of Shades Valley High School. Organized before the formal opening of the school, the Usherettes are one of the oldest traditions found here. In their dark red skirts and white blouses, they usher at all school functions, including Teachers' Institute, PTA Meetings, productions of the Fine Arts department, and graduation exercises. Each Usherette must be outstanding in scholarship (a B average is required), leadership, and citizenship, must be of excellent character, and must have a responsibility for service "above and beyond the call of duty." Personalities . . . People on the Go

The personalities of Shades Valley are the students who are something special to their classmates and to the people they meet. They may be the ones selected to receive scholastic awards of the students chosen by the student body to represent the best in certain personality traits. Whatever the reason for their recognition, the personalities are all a part of the life at Shades Valley and are those Mounties who contribute to memories of all.

To all the students, the teachers and the personnel

Do you know what happens to me, living in Birmingham and being a Mountie for a year? I am growing up, my feelings are changing, my ideas and thoughts are getting clearer and clearer, my heart is opening more and more to friendship and love. Why? Because of ya'll. Everywhere I go I find friends, everytime I need help I find help and when I want affection I receive it; I realize that I am going to have all my dreams come true, and it is not hard to find out the only cause of all my happiness: the people in my school. Everyone accepted me, a girl they had never even heard of before, as one of them, giving me many opportunities to take an active part in their daily life; nothing could be more helpful to me (far from my habits and folks) than to be allowed to share all problems and joys of the most wonderful school in the United States. Many teachers were more than teachers to me, they were friends and advisers; they gave me something more than school lessons: they taught me life lessons, and I do not have words to express to them how grateful I am. May Shades Valley be great forever.

Classes . . . People We Know

Sophomores	154
Juniors	172
Seniors	204
Senior Honors	260
Class Day Officers	282

Who are the classes at Shades Valley? Who are the more than two thousand people who make up the enrollment? They are all individuals—the fellow opening the locker, the boy and girl chatting before school, the halfback waiting on the sidelines, the cheerleader springing high. The classes are the people known to each of us, either at a distance or personally. Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors—these are the people we will remember throughout life as fellow Mounties. For fifteen years classes have passed through the halls of Shades Valley, and each has kept the school's name well; this year is no exception.

Sophomores Take Valley by Storm

Back Row: David Secor, Bill Carr. Front Row: John Matthews, Margaret Alverson.

President	Bill Core
Vice President	John Matthews
Secretary	Margaret Alverson
Treasurer	David Secor

Although the sophomores entered Shades Valley from four different schools, they soon united to form a close-knit class. The first reaction of a sophomore was "lost!" Obliging upper-classmen sold them swimming pool passes and elevator tickets, but finding the pool and the elevator required some work. Guided by Mrs. Stenbridge, the class began to shape up as class officers were elected. Realizing Shades Valley Mounties were a necessity to the school, sophomores joined clubs, entered activities, and helped build Valley's champion sports teams. However, school work had to come before anything else and Dickens' A TALE OF TWO CITIES plagued them. Twirp Week appeared and the poor sophomores seemed to carry more and heavier books than anyone else. At the close of school, when seniors have left and juniors have become seniors, the people who were sophomores are no longer low men on the totem pole.

Senior Class— Sponsors Great Magazine Sales

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

First Row: Gabriella Ferrua, Dianne Hooton, Susan Casaday.

Second Row: Bobby Douglass, Chuck Boswell, Jim Hutto, Lee Hilbert.

Shades Valley this year will see graduated one of the most outstanding Senior Classes in her history. The Senior Class of 1964 will leave Shades Valley with many accomplishments to its credit: The greatest record yet in magazine sales, the finest leadership in school spirit in all phases of school life, a superb scholastic record, and even one of the greatest accomplishments of all—a start in regaining some of the lost Senior Privileges.

This year has been filled with many fond memories—ones which will remain with us throughout our lives. The friends we have made and the experiences we have had will be treasured by us always.

The seniors of 1964 can leave Valley with their heads held high, knowing that they have left their mark here, one which will be neither soon forgotten nor easily surpassed. As we leave Valley, we take with us the admiration of the faculty for the marvelous spirit which has been displayed by the Seniors throughout the year, for the willingness to give any and all projects of the school their whole-hearted support, and for the attitude which all Seniors have shown this year, an attitude of cooperation and goodwill toward not only fellow seniors, but also toward the underclassmen and, most important, toward the teachers, whom we owe so much and whom we give so little credit.

Shades Valley has been like a home to us for the past three years, a home where learning and Spirit have been our Mother and Father. With parents such as these to guide and mold our minds and character, surely we could ask no more from our Alma Mater, but only give her the praise and honor she so rightly deserves from us.

As your officers, we honestly say that it has been a rare honor and privilege to serve the Senior Class of 1964 and to be a part of such a complete success, as no one can deny that this year's class has been and no doubt will continue to be. Let us thank you for being what you are—TRULY GREAT.

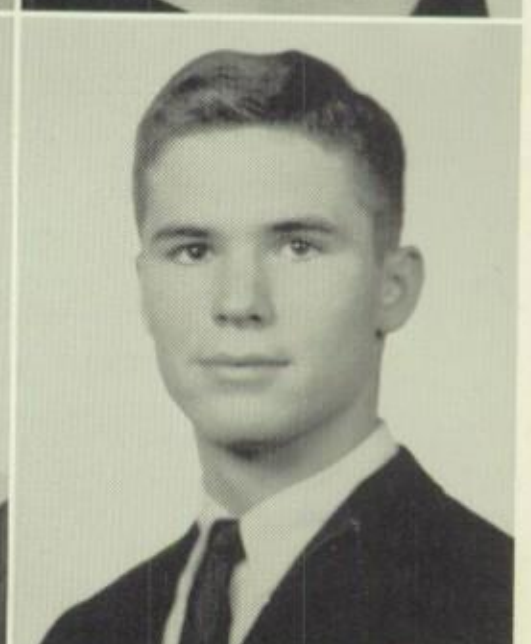

Congratulations to Larry Crowson and Susan Grimley, valedictorian and salutatorian of the class of 1964, and to Ronnie Eager, winner of the Carol Brewton award.

The Senior Class would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Parker, who has given much of his time serving the 1964 Senior Class of Shades Valley High School. For his contributions as our senior sponsor, we feel that it is not within our power to repay him for the many hours and days spent on "senior business" for us—the 1964 seniors. Our deepest gratitude and thanks to him with the sincere hope that many classes of future Shades Valley students may progress under his loyal guidance.

Visitors to Mr. Parker's class, Eugenie and Lisa.

Time marches on—a simple truth, and yet, it's hard to believe that almost three years ago, we, as sophomores, sat in the huge auditorium and heard a stern-faced man tell about the myriad offenses that brought automatic suspension!

When the orientation program had ended, we all wondered how we could possibly survive in our new environment without being caught in one of the many traps that now confronted us.

Luckily, help was on the way. It wasn't long before we elected the people who would lead us through the first hectic year. Our president, Chuck Boswell, and vice-president, Jim Hutto, were to become "old pros" in the field of future elections.

We entered our Junior year at Valley with more poise and confidence. After all, we had weathered the worst year and things could do nothing but improve. We found ourselves going to more football games and to the sock hops which followed. We began to feel more at home as we took pride in our school. We also had a sophomore class to look down upon. Yes, things were beginning to look up!

As winter slowly passed into early spring, everyone began thinking about student council elections. The spring holidays became a week of preparation rather than a week of rest. Stickers had to be made, posters decorated and strategy mapped out. At six o'clock on Monday morning, people streamed into the building to secure the most strategic spots for their candidates. The skits were enjoyed by everybody, especially the sophomores!

Miss Harden became our new student council sponsor and was destined to be an invaluable asset to that group.

Everybody loves football, especially when your team is winning. We started our Senior year in grand style by defeating our arch rival, Jones Valley, for the first time since we had been at Valley. The lop-sided score of 40-12 will long be cherished by the Senior members of the squad. Under the leadership of our new head coach, Bill Legg, the Mounties piled up a 6-3-1 record and became co-champions of Jefferson County in football. The spirit of our student body was boosted to new heights by our Mr. Mounties, Alan Davis and Lee Hilbert.

We soon showed everybody that this was no ordinary Senior class. In late October Mr. Parker, our new Senior sponsor, called us together, for a class meeting. The reason—magazine sales! Working as a team Mr. Parker and Mr. Amis convinced us that we had to sell magazines and sell we did! The $10,000 goal was passed like a streak of lightning and the $13,500 mark set up as a challenge to future Senior Classes. As a reward for our record-breaking work, Mr. Parker, Mr. Amis, and Dr. Peake bowed before the Senior class that believed in doing a job right!

We topped off the first four months of our Senior year with a terrific Christmas party and adjourned for the holidays.

In February we beheld the wonders of Twirp Week. Girls carried boy's books, twirp cops roamed the halls and slaves were auctioned off to the highest bidder. Coaches Jackson and Simms observed the powder-puff game in hopes of finding recruits for next year's team. Unfortunately, rumor has it that they thought the girls were "babies." Too bad girls!

In March under the able guidance of Mrs. Dorothy Walker our students presented another wonderful Showcase. Maureen Curphey, Eddie Friend, John Friedel, Jerry Holman and Ronald Eager, as Seniors, led our talented students in the musical comedy—"Carnival."

Cascade Plunge was the scene of our Senior Prom. Of course, by this time we were filled with mixed emotions. We were eager for the glamour of college life, and yet, we loved the security we were enjoying as Seniors. As the party came to an end, we realized that our Senior year was fast coming to a close.

As I wrote this history, I realized more and more that there is something special about the class of 1964. Its willingness to work, its desire to excel and its love for Shades Valley has made me proud to be a Senior in 1964.

Valedictorian Larry Crowson Speaks of Individuality

It is a perennial problem with young people that, during the later stages of adolescence when they are trying to assert their independence, they fall into the trap of conformity and, for the sake of security, establish positions in various cliques. The reason for this is that conformity provides an apparent acceptance into society, a sense of security, and the assurance of finding a place in life. But this is a mock self-assurance at best and is partly the fault of adolescence.

Often these young people do not see the loss they suffer. They are comfortably settled in a clique of their own kind, and ignorant of what goes on outside their own world, they completely miss the rest of life and, unfortunately, remain spokes in only one of the wheels of society. This inevitably leads to a limitation of their development; their knowledge and experience are confined within their own sphere of influence. The individual, on the contrary, forms associations with many different types of people and absorbs the best ideas of each of them. His experience is therefore broader, and he can look objectively at life's problems from several different viewpoints.

The problem which arises from these unfortunate circumstances is "How can conformists make the transition to individualists?" The answer to this problem can come only through the conformist's realizing the price he is paying for his security. After that he can only escape from his clique by a determination to better himself and broaden his interests. The pitiful part of this solution is that the time and experience lost can never be recovered. The individual is the key to society; he must have enough self-confidence to voice his views without fear, and yet enough flexibility to bend to the will of the majority. Only when each of us is able to form an integral working part of society will we have become mature individualists.

Larry Crowson

Valedictorian

Current Standards of Values Susan Grimley's Topic

The graduation of the Class of 1964 will be the separation of six hundred individual standards, standards whose ultimates of good and evil these three years of education have developed. We contact older minds with older standards, and we initiate new responses to ancient experiences.

Our set of values began its composition with the first day of mankind's awareness of life and it continues with response to every new perception. When we evaluate the position these concepts will occupy on our standard, we evaluate their personal meaning which will in turn determine the placement of our own standard on the scales of the Supreme standard of life.

We as Americans are criticized for setting monetary values to priceless objects. An American may look at an ancient Chinese vase and estimate its value at ten thousand dollars, but similarly he may look at ten thousand dollars and see a hundred thousand cans of food for hungry children. We must never shame our instinct to evaluate every new idea we meet.

This period we occupy in life, this era we hold in man's span of existence demand awareness of every belief, every new conception, good or bad, that we encounter.

All the human knowledge we possess bears meaning only through relationship—our hate, our love, our fear, our hope, our distrust, our understanding. God's knowledge alone we cannot explain by placement on these standards of ours.

When I was a child, I spoke like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child; when I became a man I gave up childish ways. For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall understand fully, even as I have been fully understood.

Susan Grimley

Salutatorian

We, the Senior Class of 1964, of Shades Valley High School do hereby declare this document to be our last will and testament.

As is the tradition, we the class of '64 graciously bestow our one senior privilege and the hope of obtaining more such privileges to the rising seniors. Now that we have bestowed our greatest gift, we shall proceed to the personal bestowals.

Alan Davis leaves his big ears and his extra long arms to whoever wants them.

Rick Middleton leaves the senior ring he never bought to the girl he never gave it to, Nan Tucker.

Jane Harris and Donna Davenport leave their very prissy ways to Terry Wright.

Billy Wheeler and Larry Crowson leave their combined brain-power to Nicky Pounds with the hope that he graduates next year.

At last, Jim Westbrook, Bill Trotter, Bitsy Murphree, David Sutter, and Elton Stephens just get to leave Valley.

Mike Stanberry and Jim Waitzman leave their snaking abilities to Van Corr, Bill Corr, and Charles Cline even though none of them really need it.

Chuck Boswell tearfully leaves Mr. Parker and his permanent pass to whoever is lucky enough to take his place.

Sharon Phillips leaves her "motor mouth" to a girl who really doesn't need it, Debby Davis.

Marty Green and Larry Duncan leave their full-length mirrors to Jim Smith and Tommy Jenkins.

JoJo Levenson leaves her wonderful disposition and her always smiling face to Mr. Stegall.

Ronnie Roseman, Gerry Goldstein, Norris Marcus, and Paul Friedman their church-keys to Frank Friedman and Jeff Moses.

Mike Blake woefully leaves his sun glasses and all of his many ascots to Phil Benton.

Mike Jeanes leaves all of his choice lines to any rising senior who is brave enough to use them on Diane Hooten.

Carolyn "Stump" McDavid and Kathy "Squaty-body" Vogtle leave their elevated shoes to Missy Smith and Ann Neptune.

Lynn Gregory and Susan Casaday leave their many sweaters to Ruby B. Bassett and Pam Bryant. While at the same time Anne Harper our "sweater girl" leaves all of her sweaters to Lucy Hargrove.

David Sutter and Byrne Abele leave their cowboy hats to Duane Coshatt and Spense Anderson.

Linda Atkinson and Mary "Root" Sevier leave their pierced ears to Von McQueen and Richard Dabney.

Jan Griffis, Kathleen Liles, and Beverly Brown leave their big . . . pocket-books to Kae Nelson, Linda Martin, and Louise Moody.

Ronald Eager and Coach Legg leave their harmonious relationship to Mr. Parker and Mr. Marden in hopes that hall traffic will flow peacefully forever.

Judy Steward leaves her vitality and good-nature to Miss Whaley with the hope that her newfound good-nature will make it easier for seniors to get out of her classes to attend assemblies and other functions.

Felix McCauley and Rick Middleton leave their unique laughs to Norman Secor.

Homer Jamison leaves his ever-smiling face to none other than happy Jack Mills.

Joe Benson, Tommy Spurrier, Frankie Patterson, Gene Holloway, Jim Hutto, and Barbara Bresler leave their outstanding football abilities to Lee Parker, Tommy Hill, Bill McIntyre, and Tim Mitch.

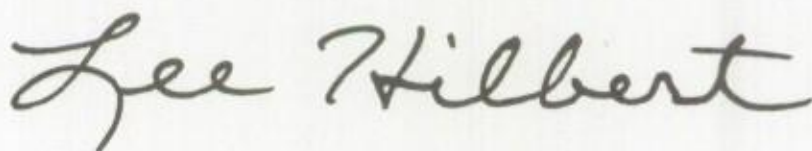

Julia Hawkins leaves her great talent for ballet dancing to Alvin Vogtle.

George Dailey leaves his persecuted and love-scarred heart to Clark Collier.

Last but not least, Jim Foster gladly leaves Miss Mackey and Honors English to Carl Mancha.

Most important of all, we the Seniors leave to both sophomores and juniors, Shades Valley a place of horror to a very few but to most of us a place of many memorable good times. We leave to you Shades Valley with the hope that you will keep her spirit high and her name great.

In witness whereof; we, the Class of 1964, the best Senior class in Shades Valley history, do hereby set our name and seal on this our last will and testament.

Lee Hillbert
Lawyer of the Senior Class

Let's pause and take a brief look back
The path is heav'ly worn
Which led us through this three year maze,
A part of life's short morn.

These years were filled with feelings strong
With honors, sorrows, joy
With disappointment now and then and failures to annoy.

Our minds were molded on this path
By teachers, words, and books.
Experience has taught us much
If we just stop to look.

For through our minds brief scenes now run;
The Sophomore Snowball flop,
The restrooms filled with smokey air,
Announcements that don't stop.

For some the envied honor roll,
For others summer school
Jokes and pranks brought much relief
'Spite many a strict rule.

The world outside plodded on,
History came to pass.
An astronaut became our friend.
He kept us out of class.

Lockers bulging o'er with books,
The lunch line oh so long!
Fire drills ringing during tests,
My how sweet their song!

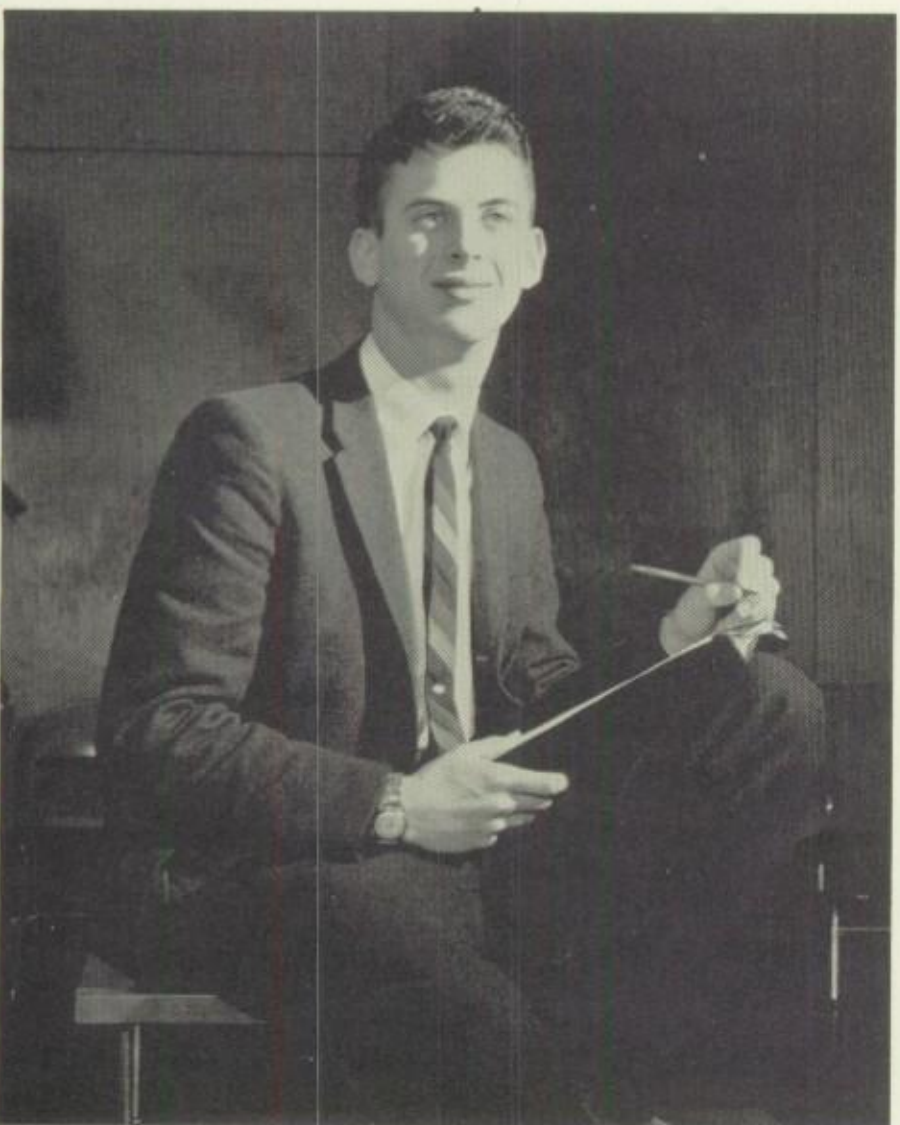

The football games on Friday nights
With dances in the gym.
The proms and parties round about
No one made all of them.

A trip to the office when it's hot,
The air conditioning's great!
Detention hall is lot's of fun,
But riding groups won't wait.

A lady cop was there at first,
Her manner stern and gruff,
Replaced at last by a friendly chap,
With scooter and ear-muff.

Magazine sales, the very best yet,
Brought honor and high praise
Madras, goldcups, and Gants were "in"
And then the petition craze.

Fond mem'ries these, and many more
Filled a time we won't forget,
When Valley filled our minds and let
The lasting impression set.

John Friedel

It has come to that time of the year again when we must gather around the old "boob tube" known as a crystal ball and take a look into the future and observe how our illustrious Seniors have made out in the adult-type world.

As I gaze into the "tube," I see many great things being done by our Seniors.

The business world has virtually been taken over by former Valleyites. Lee Hilbert has entered the executive branch of the work-a-day world. He plans to start his own company which will manufacture artificial snow which will be dispersed over the entire female population of the world.

Plain Jane Harris has gotten a job with the Bass Shoe Company. She designs "Weejuns" which correct slewfootedness. Also designing things are Kathy "Squaty" Vogtle, Pat Rider, Carolyn "Stump" McDavid, and Carol Adams. Their latest invention is a body stretching machine.

I see that Suzanne Trimm, Carol Ann Fex, Laide Long, and Jim Burton have enrolled in Larry Duncan's new body-building course called "Flexing and Eyebrow Raising for Fun and Profit." Speaking of profit, Robbie Yeager has perfected his unbeatable roulette wheel, and along with Jim Foster and Alan Glazman has made a mint in the casino that the three opened in Las Vegas.

Harold Goings is still Harold Goings.

Julia Hawkins has attained her lifelong goal and is now an internationally famous ballerina.

While we are speaking of the field of entertainment, I see that it, too, is liberally sprinkled with old S.V.H.S.'ers. Cleopatra Spotswood is now queen of the foreign films. Jimmy Campbell, having left the athletic world, has devoted his life to music. His first recording was "They Call Me a Teenage Idol."

Mary Ruth Sevier has gone to Greenwich Village where she has become a beatnik and has replaced Carol Hester on the modern Hootenanny Scene. Also with her in the Village are Jane Soloman and Linda Atkinson who own a beauty salon, their specialty—modern hairstyles. Some of their first customers include Donna Davenport, Elaine Byrd, Sharon Hillman, and Elton Stephens.

Lonesome George Dailey has started a lonely hearts club. His First members were Lynn Kessler, Gloria Levio, and Carleton Lackey.

The political scene sees many aspiring young grads coming up through the ranks. Jim Hutto, after taking speech lessons has become governor of Alabama after George Wallace was elected President of the United States. But old George was given a tough fight by Eric Kindberg, the master politician, who was running on the ultraconservative John Birch Society ticket.

George Morgan has recently been elected president of the Casa Nostra Underworld Organization, and he has appointed Jim Waitzman his personal bodyguard to wrestle off any and all would-be assassins.

Buddy Yancey has gone bald.

I see that the Senior Class officers are still wandering around the halls of Valley on Mr. Parker's passes. Speaking of passes, Rick Middleton still hasn't gotten a pass out of Miss Whaley's trig class. And speaking of math, Billy Wheeler has now published the world's most comprehensive business arithmetic textbook and dedicated it to his lifelong friend and consultant, Volena Whaley.

Several other Valley grads have entered the literary world. Tommy Spurrier, Kathy Liles, Judy Marshall, Walter Schor, and Sue Laufman have gotten together and collaborated on a best-seller, "Dieting Made Easy." Don Lundy has rewritten "Rip Van Winkle" and presented to Mrs. Winnie Benson an autographed copy.

Mike Stanberry, Mr. Touchdown, after he perfected the football with handles, also wrote a best-seller, "Under Seven Flags."

I observe that Lynn Gregory has tied down two jobs; fashion editor of the Saturday Evening Post, and top-flight photographer's model for Playboy. Since we are on the subject of these two superb magazines, we can't leave without visiting other Mounties who are working there. Anne Harper, the Sweater Girl, is Cartoon Editor for Playboy. Palmi Mollier, the festival man, is the Short Story Editor of the same magazine. It looks like the entire Tower staff has stuck together through the years and is now publishing hard-back editions of that great news magazine, the Saturday Evening Post.

Gail Alverson, unmarried, is still just a sweetheart.

Through the scientific know-how of the research team of Steve Weeman, Martin Green, Martin Haskell, and Steve Wallave, man has been able to overcome the problems of outer space and colonize other planets.

Kim Glass has been able to buy his own car with the money received from his new book, "How to Pass A Spanish III Course."

Alan Davis, a multimillionaire yachtsman and continental bum, is spending his leisure time basking in the sun on the warm grains of sand of the eternal beach of the French Riviera.

Diane Cohn, Lynne Epsman, Robin Rae, and Carolyn Ruffin are now the loveliest of the sophisticated Jet-Set.

Speaking of flying around, Hubie Green is the new P.G.A. Golf champ.

On the religious front, JoJo Levenson has joined the Peace Corps and, stationed in the Congo, is teaching the natives Hebrew. I see that Norris Marcus, Paul Friedman, Ronnie Roseman, and Jerry Goldstein have turned away from their wicked, wicked ways and have become rabbis. It looks like Ronald Eager is now chaplain of the U.S. Since he couldn't get along with authority, he had nowhere to go but up.

Gary Boren is still winning runoffs.

It looks like Debbie Drake's chores and honors have been taken over by Susan Casady, Nancy Hesse, Judy Steward, and Janet Booth.

Grant Murphee, David Sutter, and Hank Jebeles graduated Magna Cum Laude.

Betsy Vance, Michele Crow, Anna Davies, Libby Fitz, and Susan Ford have been set free from their high school duties and are now able to go on their particular pursuits of happiness.

Sharon Phillips has now mastered French, Spanish, and Hebrew, and, by virtue of her jet-propelled mouth, can speak all three at once; however, she has not yet gotten the hang of English, but she is working on it.

Gloria Levio has taken over Betty Furness' job of selling Westinghouse Freezers.

Ricky Sasnett, Paul Tollett, Hayden Montgomery, and Bill Dobbins have gone to work for the Greyhound Bus Lines.

Larry Crowson has made an agreement with Miss Whaley and Mrs. Stenbridge. He is still attending Valley, but no longer as a student, rather as a tutor for these two ladies.

Open-minded Rick Middleton, who really did marry a girl who did not live in Mountain Brook, has put his great tact to good use in his governmental position—chief negotiator for the Labor Department.

Mary Carleton Lackey, having realized that she has won all of the beauty contests that are possible to win, has nothing to live for.

After having worked out with weights for several years, Cannonball Brown now has a twenty-two inch neck to go with his eight inch arms.

Uh oh! It looks like the "boob tube" is fading out. The Control Voice must have something to do with this.

I guess it is time to return to the present for now. But it won't be long before the future of each of us will be reality, and, as quickly as our Senior year has passed, our futures will be our pasts, and we can but look back and remember what great times we have really had, especially here at Valley. I'm sure that the tube doesn't lie when it says that there is a great future in store for every Senior.

Chuck Bozwell

Class Prophet, 1964

During this year, aided by sixty-four Secret Service men and eighteen hidden cameras, I compiled a grand total of four statistics. Yesterday, in desperation, I eavesdropped on a brief conversation between Sharon Phillips and Nancy Niedermeier, and am now happy to present to you the 1963-64 Senior Class statistics.

This year, led by Mrs. Blackshear's homeroom, the Senior Class sold $13,613.14 worth of magazine subscriptions. Only 43 Seniors failed to sell at least one subscription, but 36 of these had Mr. Parker for history and will have another chance to sell next year.

The WSGN Petition Dance statistics show that 2,049 Shades Valley students used $8\frac{1}{2}$ gallons of ink and 18,642 pencil points in signing 13,426 different names on over 40,000 petitions.

Miss Whalsey and Mr. Marden broke a total of 162 pieces of chalk this year, and caught 1,649 hapless students wandering aimlessly about the hall outside their rooms.

Mr. Mounties Alan Davis and Lee Hilbert gave 14,379 cheers during eleven Valley football games and have yet to receive one.

Lee Hilbert also set a new record by snowing 86 Sophomore girls the first day of school, while George Dailey broke his last year's record by falling in love twenty-one times this year.

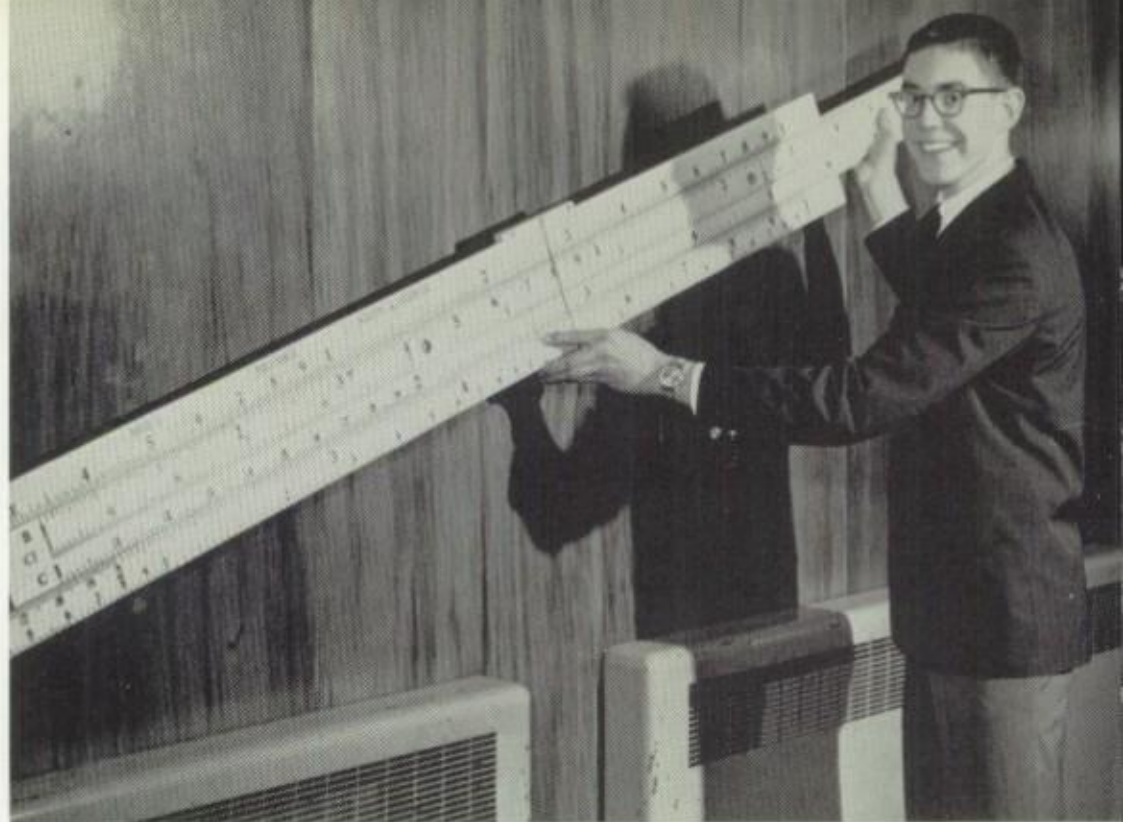

George Morgan has missed the policeman in front an average of 1.32 inches leaving school over the past three years. Our deepest sympathy to this brave young courier of justice who spun out 16 times in the rear parking lot and skinned each knee eight times. Did I say parking lot? I meant our own "land of 10,000 lakes."

Jim Hutto delivered 32 lectures to the football team this year and kicked Tommy Spurier off the team when Tommy left in the middle of 31 of them. To save face, Tommy left before Jim began his 43rd address.

Tiger Timmons and Barbara Burns have gone steady and broken up exactly 58 times this year.

Mike Stanberry racked up an amazing 18,612 Brownie points in Miss Whaley's trig and Algebra III classes this year. Rick Middleton, also, won 14,862 points in Trig and Algebra III, but 14,860 of these were taken back in Calculus class.

To date, Jim Foster has sacrificed 12 erasers, 6 pencil sharpeners, 56 Calculus books, and an undetermined number of human beings to his "Snow god." I am, however, confident Jim will come through, provided the school does not run out of erasers and pencil sharpeners first.

Martin Green flexed his whole body 36,642 times this year, and, unfortunately, split his skull when he flexed his brain taking Mr. Walker's final exam.

Major Bashinsky consumed 862 bags of Golden Flake potato chips in the lunchroom this year, and is held as directly responsible for the additional consumption of 9,086 bags of Golden Flake.

Mr. Jackson and Mr. Sims used the word, "Babies," in reference to the P.E. boys 68,652 times this year. Congratulations to Mr. Jackson and Mr. Sims!

The Fall ACT test scores revealed the not-too-surprising fact that Shades Valley Seniors are 23.7% smarter than any other seniors in the United States.

Finally, of the 641 graduating Seniors, 232 will attend Auburn, 194 will attend the University, 86 will attend Howard, 42 Birmingham-Southern, 19 Vanderbilt, 11 Georgia Tech, 1 M.I.T., 1 Princeton, and 1 F.S.U. The remaining 54 have been neither seen nor heard from since the final exams.

The preceding report is hereby submitted to you, the Seniors of the 1963-64 school year, for your approval. Best wishes always and may God Bless each of you.

Sincerely,

Felix McCauley

Shades Valley High School
Birmingham, Alabama
May 5, 1964

Howdy, folks:

Jest a note to all of you back in the mounteens sayin' how much me and sis like it here. When we fust come here, we met us some real nice folks from what they call "Shades Valley High School." Don't know whar they get that idee—it shore don't look like no school house I ever seen.

Our Mounties in a 1923 Model T touring car owned by Dempsey Brooks, member of the Dixie Vintage Antique Car Club in Shades Valley.

College bound? "Ya'll come around."

Dear Shirley,

I can't express how much your friendship has meant to me this year. I'll never forget all our English projects, library trips, etc. I wish SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE CO. things could have worked out so we could go to the same college, but this way we can visit each other during the year. You just can't realize how much you have helped me this year - not only by introducing me to other people, but giving me a better outlook on SV and my sr. year. I hope that during the coming years our friendship can grow deeper. You will always be liked by everyone you meet because you have the wonderful quality of being able to make friends so easily. Thank you so much for taking time out to be nice to someone who will never forget you. Please come and see me at LSU anytime you want next year and the years following. Good luck always to a great girl.

Well, this shore is a nice place and me 'n sis, well we'd like to stay. I guess the big city's jest too big fer us right now. Anyways we's gittin' lonesome for all you back home. Cain't wait to let you see how we look all duded up in our city clothes. They ain't as cumfterbul as the ol' overalls, but I figger after I've rolled 'em around in the dirt and worked in 'em in the field fer a couple o' weeks, they'll be jest as good.

If we kin git the ol' buggy t' goin', you kin be expectin' us home in th' next few days.

Luv,

Jeke

This is the general headquarters room of the group of individuals known as the TOWER STAFF. The activity which takes place is the top secret production of a school-sponsored manuscript called simply The Tower.

This Is What the Tower Staff Calls Work

The documents and records of this organization are designated by the letters TS (generally reputed to stand for the initials of T. S. Eliot to confuse outsiders). All documents not otherwise labeled are kept in a red file under the heading "B"—deeply significant of something.

The people who control this operation are a highly trained and specialized group, each having a unique talent. There are the writers who arrange the material in literary form, the typists who decode the copy and then code it their own way, and the editors and sponsor who try to figure it all out. The staff also includes the photographers, the business office, the art and layout people, and others comprising a cast of thousands.

These people work almost an entire year to prepare the book you are reading now. Why don't you just pause for a moment and give the Tower staff a big hand!

Shirley,

These last eight months have truly been the happiest of my life. You have helped me enjoy school.... seeing you after every class and having two classes with me
the last semester. You're always there for me to talk to, and tell my troubles, too.
Surely you are a saint for putting up with me. I really don't deserve you, and you're much too good for me....
but I'm glad you're with me.
You've always been by my side, and I know I couldn't have made it through the year without you. You are the greatest girl in the world and I only have the highest regard for you.
You are all this and beautiful too.
Love,
Ed

Lts of Love,

Janet

W^ol^l Love,
